

Product Safety for Textile and Apparel

Overview :-

This course provides occupational knowledge on product safety requirements that applies to raw materials and finished garments in the fashion industry. This includes specific rules and regulations governed by the importing countries like USA and European communities, and not limited to testing and evaluation of the finished product. This knowledge will reduce duplication in product quality testing and provide upfront information for raw material selection, to facilitate design changes to comply with international regulations and eliminate misinterpretations. This unit is delivered through lectures, videos and simulation activities.
